Broad-Based Livelihoods

To date, DRDGOLD has had more than 8 000 direct participants in the Company's agricultural Broad-Based Livelihoods (BBL) programme since 2018, and this number continues to increase. These are from the communities in Ekurhuleni-Tsakane Ext 10, Tsakane Central, Kwa-Thema, Geluksdal, Langaville, Transnet, Daggafontein, Makunqa, Sallies and Reedville. These communities are transforming previous community dumping areas into productive spaces, thus creating health and economic benefits.

BBL MyFood

Almost 783 households can already earn a minimum of R10 000 per year from tunnel production. Participants prepare trenches for their seasonal crops as the programme continues unabated.

BBL MyFuture

BBL MyFuture changes the way people think about themselves and prospects for their lives.

Many BBL participants kickstart diverse entrepreneurial activities in their communities

More than 185 MyFuture learning sessions were delivered in FY2022.
